The Formation of a Generation of Transformation

Dear Family Members,

When I was a child traveling to Central America as a young missionary I felt a heavy burden in my heart for those who are broken. I saw children abandoned walking on rocks in bare feet, families destroyed by drugs and alcohol and women who lost their sense of self-worth do to years of abuse. At the same time I witnessed people selfishly trapped in their comfort zone oblivious to the realities of the world around them, failing to unite as one to be the ripple that forms a flood of hope. I saw churches and non-profits more concerned about their personal agendas, egos and spending money on awards for acts that should not be awarded because it is our responsibility as human beings and children of God. So many times they fail to be creative financially, programmatically and do not understand that we are all in this together and we must unite. For this reason, God developed a vision to form a Hope Movement of people who set aside their agendas and egos and unite as one to transform communities into haven of hope.

Over the last 8 years of my life I have dedicated my blood, sweat and tears to the Hope Movement as a volunteer. At times it is overwhelming for it is a great responsibility, but is also a privilege. Often times I felt alone in this mission, and have cried myself to sleep many times because it felt like no one was standing beside me, but in my moments of despair God reminds me that this is just the process of purpose. He reminds me every time I see a child embrace us for they have found hope, every time a family is restored and generational cycles of hopelessness are broken and every time someone says I believe in you by giving whatever they can give in an act of compassion. As I look back on this year and the years that have passed I count our blessings, for with every tear a life has been transformed, including mine.

I thank you all for your love, prayers, encouragement and support. Words can not express my love and appreciation for you. There is not a word in the modern dictionary to translate how much I care and love you all. Thank you once again for being so much more than a donor or volunteer, you are our family.

We Love You All,

Founder/ Executive Director/ Missionary

Our Vision

The Hope Movement is an inter-denominational, 501 (c)(3) non-profit movement with a passion to bring social and spiritual change throughout Latin America, United States, and the world. Our vision to create a Revolution of Love throughout the world opening the windows of heaven to allow the rain of God's presence to fall upon His people. Flowing through the streets like a mighty river. Pouring hope into the lives of many.

Our mission is to unite social organizations, churches, ministries, and individuals together as one in a movement of hope, shaking them from their comfort zone, inspiring them to reach out to those who are reaching out to us. Defend and care for abused and abandoned children embracing them with arms of love. Break the chains of modern-day slavery, setting the captives free. Provide free health care to everyone in need so that they may live long and prosperous lives. Empower the people through education creating a cycle of change. Provide rehabilitation programs to youth and adults to release them from the trap of addiction and oppression. Stabilize the family structure breaking the cycle of abuse and child neglect. Preach a message of hope to everyone in our path opening their eyes to see their life's purpose, being the voice and the hands of God, transforming communities into havens of hope.

The Hope Movement is not an organization, or a one man show. It is a movement of destined individuals and organizations united as one, dedicating our lives to the rescue and care of children and adults living in desperate need, reaching out to those who are longing for love. A new day has arrived and the Hope Movement is the formation of a generation of transformation.

Rooftop Garden

Haven of Hope - Escuintla, Guatemala

Guatemala has the fourth highest rate of chronic malnutrition in the world and the highest in Latin America and the Caribbean. Chronic malnutrition affects about half of the nation's children under the age of 5. Children are registered in our feeding and educational programs, and receive monthly credits to use to pay for their daily meals. Part of our food supply is purchased from local merchants to help the local economy or donated by local farms and food markets, and the remainder supply is produced in our center's rooftop garden which reduces expenses, provides nutritious meals, trains the community on creative methods to produce their own food and generate an income and benefits the environment.

We have developed a credit system so that children understand that they must work hard in life to achieve success, breaking the mentality of begging and dependency and at the time receiving emotional and spiritual nourishment through education and counseling programs. Credits are continually earned by committing to community service, attending classes that are offered, or regular attendance at the church of their choice.

Through our Hope Movement Alliance, we train local churches, non-profits and community members on how to develop community gardens to provide cost-effective feeding programs in many communities throughout Guatemala and around the world.

Story Behind the Vision

Escuintla, Guatemala

Pastor Neri and his wife Betty while Pastors at a local church in Escuintla started a small feeding center/ education center for local children. In 1994 a young boy by the name of Jonathan Roiz came to Guatemala to assist Pastor Neri in the feeding center, and to conduct mission activities throughout Escuintla. Jonathan returned to the United States, and from that moment was never the same again for he understood that God was calling him to return to Guatemala to one day open a City of Hope and to help Pastor Neri make his vision into a reality. Years passed a Jonathan wrote Pastor Neri, but none of his letters arrived. During that time, support decreased and Pastor Neri was forced to close the feeding center, breaking his heart. Finally in 2003 Jonathan's final letter arrived and reconnected Jonathan who now is a young man with his long time friend Pastor Neri. They immediately began to share their feelings, and visions, opening their eyes to see that God has destined this moment for them to reunite as friends, family, and partners to be the hands of God to fulfill the deep calling to ignite a movement of hope throughout Guatemala, transforming cities into havens of hope.

Breaking Generational Cycles Escuintla, Guatemala

Daily we spend time with the children in the community. We play games in the streets, laugh and spent time talking to the children which opens the doors for providing words of advice, love, and guidance. One example of our many conversations is with a young 12 year old girl named Sandra. She lives in an abandoned piece of land in a one room metal hut with her Mother, Grandmother (Who can't speak because a man punched her in the throat), her two younger half-sisters, and an abusive Step-Father. The "house" has no electricity, running water, or bathroom. One morning she asked Jonathan Roiz if he would sit with her on the street, as they sat there she began to weep, and started to share her life story. She told him about how ever since her Mother married her Step-Father around 8 years ago, her Mother neglects her, emotionally abuses her, makes her work instead of go to school, and her Step-Father recently offered her to men for money. Sandra asked Jonathan if he knows of anyone who can help her get out of this home. With everything within him he fought back the tears, and promised her that he will do everything he can to help her. He let her know what we are trying to do through the Hope Movement, and that our home is her home, for we are family. He told her that he is fighting for her, and will do everything in his power to give her a better life, for she has a purpose, God has a destiny and plan for her life, and he refuses to allow abusive individuals to rob her of her destiny.

Another day a precious little girl named Nayeli and her brother came the Haven of Hope Center, and whispered in Jonathan's ear that they have a gift for him. They handed him a little gift, wrapped in wrapping paper. As he opened the gift, inside he found a letter written by the children. In their letter they thanked him for their gifts, and said that they love him like a Papa, and that the hugs they receive from us warm their hearts. Days passed and more children came and gave little gifts, letters, and cards to express their love.

Adela Chacón Tax (Sister of Rebeca, the woman who we met) was brutally murdered in July 2007 and left behind a houseful of charming, boisterous family members, including her three children and her sister Rebeca. Rebeca is struggling to get justice in a system imbued with societal normalization of violence against women. There is documentary that will soon be released entitled "Justice for My Sister" which investigates the concept of femicide, or gender-based killings, in Guatemala, and how different people in the rural town of Escuintla remember and make sense of Adela's death. Jonathan spoke with the Director of this documentary awhile back, and emailed her before his visit and informed her that he is going to Escuintla with some toys and clothing, and asked her if she could send him the family's address. Continued ⇒

Breaking Generational Cycles Escuintla, Guatemala

One hot afternoon, Jonathan, Pastor Neri Flores, Betty Flores, Ivett Flores, Anahi Monzon, and Marlon Monzon visited this precious family to give toys, financial assistance, and words of hope. It was an inspiration to meet a young woman who has dedicated her life to taking care of her children, her sisters children, and fight for justice and look forward to continuing our support of her family.

Staff and other volunteers organized a street event for over 200 children in the community in the Colonia Madrid and San Felipe. Pastor William Lopez drove an hour to Escuintla from Villa Lobos and brought a sound system and keyboard, ladies in the community prepared the food, and Marlon assisted in blocking off the road. We started the event inviting everyone in the community to attend, and began singing songs with a Biblical message. The children sang, laughed, and danced, and a sense of love and hope filled the streets. As time passed more children came, and even adults came and sat near by to listen to messages and songs. Pastor William's wife Lely shared a message with the children and incorporated the children in the lesson. Later Pastor William introduced Jonathan, and he began to share the Bible story of Samuel, the young boy that heard the voice of God. He said, one evening God called Samuel several times, but Samuel thought it was Eli calling him. When Eli realized that God was calling Samuel, Eli said the next time God calls you, say, your servant is listening. The point of the message was that we are never too young to be called by God. As we grow up we will hear many voices, people saying to try drugs, have sex, drink, say this, do that, we must focus on the voice of God. Jonathan told the children that you are the generation that will transform your families, communities, and nation. You will be the ones who will break the cycle. He asked them, when someone asks you to do something that you know is wrong what will you say, and they yelled "NO", he asked them when God speaks to you what will you say, and they yelled "I AM LISTENING", he asked them are you ready to be used by God and transform Guatemala, and they yelled "READY".

After the message we prayed with the children, and Pastor William asked the children to get in a line, and one by one they all gave Jonathan a hug. It was one of the most special moments of our life.

After the message and hugs, we set up two piñatas and we had so much fun, one by one the children, and even Jonathan hit the piñatas. When they exploded with candy the children dove to the ground to gather as much candy as they could find. Afterwards, we fed all the children, giving them enchiladas, juice, and a small bag of candies. These events are impactful memories which are forever imprinted in the hearts and minds of the children and community. Your gifts have made these life-transforming moments possible.

My Two Dreams

Nayeli's Story

Her name is Nayeli Esmeralda. She is 9 years old. When asked when her birthday is, she replied "I don't know, all I know it has passed". Her eyes tell a story of a child who has been abandoned. A child living in extreme poverty, and is malnourished physically and emotionally. She holds your hand in a way that cries out Never Let Me Go! The Hope Movement opened our arms and brought Nayeli into our loving family, providing her with new clothing, shoes, education, nourishment and most importantly love. She has developed a deep bond with our family that she even considers Jonathan Roiz, founder of The Hope Movement her Papa. When asked what are her dreams she replied, "To have my family united, and that the poor children will have clothes and food".

This precious child who is suffering greatly set aside her own pain to think of others. Help us help her by supporting the Haven of Hope Centers and mission activities by giving a financial gift.

Meet Precious Nayeli

Searching for Hope

Sandra's Story

Sandra is only 12 years old and she lives with her two younger sisters, her Mother, and her Grandmother in a aluminum one room hut that has no bathroom, no water, and no electricity which they built over a year ago on an abandoned lot next to the Haven of Hope Center which was used by the neighbors as a trash dump where you could find used drug needles, and piles of trash. The children are from different men, her Mother does not work, and allows her alcoholic abusive husband into their one room shack each night.

Sandra was sponsored by Christian Children's Fund, but her sponsorship ceased because they closed the office that was supporting her. A Christian family took Sandra into their home, and offered her a better life, a private school education, and her own room. But a year ago the child sponsorship stopped, and her Mother made her return to live with her so that little Sandra can work to support the family.

Sandra went from living in a Christian home with a room of her own, education, and hope for the better future, to living in a one room shack that has no bathroom, no water, and no electricity. Sandra works from early in the morning to late at night helping her family to survive. Her eyes are tired, her heart is heavy, and she longs for hope. Through your contributions The Hope Movement is providing education and daily meals to Sandra and her two sisters providing them hope for the future.

Orphan Finding Hope

Ebrahim's Story

Ebrahim Elieser Vargas Garcia is 5 years old, he has lived with his grandparents since the age of 2 because his mother who was a young 23 year old girl who passed way tragically leaving Ebrahim orphaned and alone. His young father has very little communication with him causing an empty feeling of abandonment in his heart.

Ebrahim was born on November 9, 2006. His grandmother suffers from a chronic illness, his grandfather spends most of his time working far from the home outside of the city leaving Ebrahim in the care of his Aunt Dora Leticia Martinez, who likewise is a young struggling single mother who works full-time in order to provide for her children and Ebrahim. Periodically Ebrahim has breathing problems, but in spite of the obstacles that life has given him at such a young age he still maintains a very intelligent and noble character, he loves to study and learn new things and aspires to be an athlete when he grows up.

Ebrahim's life is a common story in the community where The Hope Movement works, providing care in three key areas of development; nutrition, education and health. The Haven of Hope Center is the only outreach program in the entire city. Your contributions are providing prevention programs which are the key to breaking the cycle of poverty and hopelessness, and allowing The Hope Movement to provide assistance and love to Ebrahim and his family and many families like his, providing love and hope opening their eyes to their life's purpose.

Haven of Hope Outreach Center Amazons - Iquitos, Peru

Iquitos, the largest city in the world unreachable by road, is situated between three rivers: the Amazon, the Itaya and the Nanay. It has a population of almost 500,000 people with an additional 300,000 in rural river villages. It is considered the most populated city that cannot be reached by road because the only way to get there is by boat or plane.

Children continue to be the most vulnerable and unprotected citizens. Of the 3.8 million people living in extreme poverty, 2.1 million are children, with more than 60% of the under-18 population living below the poverty line. Peru is primarily a source country for women and children trafficked within the country for the purpose of commercial sexual exploitation. The government acknowledges that child sex tourism exists, particularly in the Amazon region of the country.

The program is located in three locations utilizing local church facilities in several areas in Iquitos. The program is one of the only outreach initiatives in Iquitos providing education, counselling, meals and spiritual guidance to over 250 children each week. The Hope Movement plans to expand this program to reach a larger number of children and families, as well as uniting local ministries to impact the community through street outreach and community development.

Story Behind the Vision Iquitos, Peru

In 2000 Marta Noguera developed a vision called "Alcanzando Niños Para Jesus" in the Amazon City of Iquitos, Peru, she then partnered with Jonathan Roiz a long time friend who together have conducted missions in several nations such as Guatemala, joining the board of directors of the Hope Movement, and together they made a vow to God and the people of Iquitos to fulfill the call to ignite a movement of united people together as one to open the windows of Heaven to rain down the presence of God upon the people of Peru, shaking His people from their comfort zone, answering the call to be the ripple that forms a flood of hope, flowing through the streets like a mighty river, transforming cities into havens of hope.

The program has reached over 800 children in several communities throughout Iquitos. Through donations by Marta, individuals, and churches such as Luz de las Naciones, the program has been able to provide uniforms, shoes, education, counseling, physical nourishment, and spiritual guidance to children and families, with a vision to expand to bring lasting transformation to Iquitos and the nation of Peru.

2,241 Items = $6,822.48

Gifts in Kind

The Hope Movement has collected over 2,241 donated non-monetary items which are valued at over $6,822.48. Wonderful individuals and organizations have donated new and used items which have been utilized in our programs around the world or sold and the funds utilized to fund our life-transforming initiatives.

Volunteers in various states and as far as Singapore have collected donated cell phones, toys, clothing, shoes, office supplies, kitchen items and much more. At times shipping costs to other nations is more than the value of the donated item, so our volunteers are organizing events to sell these items and donate the revenue from the sales to help operate our programs.

Gifts in Kind donations are a blessing to our work and have allowed us to provide many people in desperate need with beneficial supplies and life-transforming programs.

A Ministry Focused Ministry

Creative Revenue Ingenuity

Although many non-profits and ministries are doing a wonderful work, many are more focused and obsessed with raising funds rather than developing effective life-transforming programs, spending valuable time and finances in trying to convince potential donors to give to their cause.

We desire to focus our attention on serving God and His people who are reaching out for love and hope, by eliminating the begging campaigns to raise needed funding by developing strong lasting relationships with individuals and organizations and by establishing creative revenue generating businesses which provide funding to operate our life-transforming programs around the world, helping us to be self-sustaining.

Just some of our creative business plans are a community store in Guatemala which provides a coffee & snack shop and a used clothing store, online store where people can buy our merchandise and items designed by community members of nations where we serve, a snowball business in Baltimore, Maryland and sales of donated gift in kind donations. This unique mentality allows us to focus on their needs and not ours.

Called To Be His Hands Open Your Eyes and Take Action

God has chosen to have us work with Him to bring justice to victims of oppression, for we are His hands. The truth is that He calls all people to seek justice for the abused and suffering in our world. God's people often do not understand that social work goes hand and hand with spiritual outreach. You can't have one without the other. Jesus always combined social and spiritual outreach together. He would not only preach to the people about spiritual salvation but he would feed the hungry, heal their bodies, and pull them out of the life of prostitution, addiction, and oppression.

Reaching out to people to only help them spiritually is like seeing a person drowning in the ocean. You are standing on the shoreline with a life raft, and you say to them here is your salvation now come to me and I will give you the life raft and you will be saved. God's people often watch people drowning in hopelessness and they stand in the distance of their comfort zone saying I know you're hurting, here is your salvation, Jesus; all you have to do is come to us. Or we tell them about what can save them, Jesus, but we leave them in their social situation and wonder why that person could not maintain their walk with God. They could not because we informed them about salvation, but abandoned them in the crack house, the brothel, the street, the abusive marriage, or the poverty consumed life. We rescued them spiritually but did nothing to help them socially, creating a never ending cycle of hopelessness. The moment we change our mentality and methods is the moment when we will see a world transformed.

"Learn to do good, seek justice, rescue the oppressed, defend the orphan, plead for the widow." (Isaiah 1:17)

"I searched for a man among them who would build up the wall and stand in the gap before me for the land, so that I would not destroy it, but I found none." (Ezekiel 22:30)

"He has told you, oh mortal, what is good; and what does the LORD require of you but to do justice, and to love kindness, and to walk humbly with your God?" (Micah 6:8)

It is incredible that the God of the universe gives us a short list of three things that He requires of us, and that list begins with justice. The Bible couldn't be clearer about God's call for His people to join with Him as he brings relief to the suffering. The good news about this is that all God asks of us is that we give Him what we have. Continued ⇒

Called To Be His Hands Open Your Eyes and Take Action

He doesn't expect us to do miracles. He asks us to place our skills, talents, money, and influence – whatever we have – at His feet to use for His purposes. A great example of God doing just this is the story of Jesus feeding the five thousand (Mark 6:30-44). Jesus had been preaching on the hillside all day. The Bible only takes into account the 5,000 men in attendance that day, but we can safely assume there were a large number of women and children present as well, adding thousands to the total number of people there. As the day wore on, the people naturally became hungry and the disciples advised Jesus to send them home so they could get something to eat, which seems like a rather rational solution to the problem. But, Jesus' response to His disciples was, "You give them something to eat." One can imagine the disbelief of the disciples as they explained to Jesus that it would take more than a month's wages to feed all these people.

Again, Jesus' response is surprising. He turned to the disciples and asked what they had. They responded that all they had were five loaves of bread and two fish, not even close to enough to make a dent in the task of feeding the throng of people before them. But, as we know, Jesus took that little amount of food, blessed it, and He and the disciples were able to feed everyone there and have more left over at the end than they originally had at the beginning. The lesson is that Jesus took the little the disciples had and used it to perform a miracle in feeding the 5,000.

God is asking all of us the same question He asked the disciples: "What do you have?" When we compare the vast need for justice in the world – 27 million slaves in the world, an estimated 1 million children are trapped in the sex trade every year – with what little we have to give, it looks so impossible, and we think that there's nothing we can do about it.

Jesus knows the problem of injustice is too big for us to fix with our five loaves and two fish, but He wants us to give what we do have to Him. He's big enough to use the little we have to make the impossible possible. He wants to use our gifts, talents, and resources to bring justice to those who need it urgently.

The outcome of this story in the Bible is that every single individual on that hillside was given enough to eat. The outcome of God's people offering what they have to Him to fight injustice will be that individual lives will be freed from the bonds of oppression.

Hope Movement

Our Vision

The Hope Movement is an inter-denominational, 501 (c)(3) non-profit movement with a passion to bring social and spiritual change throughout Latin America, United States, and the world. Our vision to create a Revolution of Love throughout the world opening the windows of heaven to allow the rain of God's presence to fall upon His people. Flowing through the streets like a mighty river. Pouring hope into the lives of many.

Our mission is to unite social organizations, churches, ministries, and individuals together as one in a movement of hope, shaking them from their comfort zone, inspiring them to reach out to those who are reaching out to us. Defend and care for abused and abandoned children embracing them with arms of love. Break the chains of modern-day slavery, setting the captives free. Provide free health care to everyone in need so that they may live long and prosperous lives. Empower the people through education creating a cycle of change. Provide rehabilitation programs to youth and adults to release them from the trap of addiction and oppression. Stabilize the family structure breaking the cycle of abuse and child neglect. Preach a message of hope to everyone in our path opening their eyes to see their life's purpose, being the voice and the hands of God, transforming communities into havens of hope.

The Hope Movement is not an organization, or a one man show. It is a movement of destined individuals and organizations united as one, dedicating our lives to the rescue and care of children and adults living in desperate need, reaching out to those who are longing for love. A new day has arrived and the Hope Movement is the formation of a generation of transformation.

Completing the Center Remodeling

Haven of Hope Outreach Center Center Remodeling - Escuintla, Guatemala

- 49% of Guatemalan children under five years of age are chronically malnourished.
- In the Colony of Madrid and San Felipe, Escuintla over 80% of the population live in extreme poverty and cannot even provide daily meals to their children.

Located in the Colonia of Madrid and San Felipe, Escuintla, Guatemala our Haven of Hope Center is the only community program providing daily nutritious meals which is essential for survival and development to the most vulnerable of children in the community, children who most days live on less than a piece of bread a day, and spend their time in the streets begging and searching for food for their families. In attending our Haven of Hope Center the Hope Movement does not just provide physical nourishment, but through education and counseling we provide spiritual and emotional nourishment to guide youth and adults, heal their inner wounds, and inspire them to pursue their life's purpose, understanding that poverty is not their destiny, it is only an obstacle to overcome to make their dreams into a reality.

Remodeling of the Haven of Hope Center began in July and will be completed at the end of September. The remodeled building will allow us to not only reach the local community but also unite and train churches and ministries through our Hope Movement Alliance.

Story Behind the Vision Escuintla, Guatemala

Pastor Neri and his wife Betty while Pastors at a local church in Escuintla started a small feeding center/ education center for local children. In 1994 a young boy by the name of Jonathan Roiz came to Guatemala to assist Pastor Neri in the feeding center, and to conduct mission activities throughout Escuintla. Jonathan returned to the United States, and from that moment was never the same again for he understood that God was calling him to return to Guatemala to one day open a City of Hope and to help Pastor Neri make his vision into a reality. Years passed a Jonathan wrote Pastor Neri, but none of his letters arrived. During that time, support decreased and Pastor Neri was forced to close the feeding center, breaking his heart. Finally in 2003 Jonathan's final letter arrived and reconnected Jonathan who now is a young man with his long time friend Pastor Neri. They immediately began to share their feelings, and visions, opening their eyes to see that God has destined this moment for them to reunite as friends, family, and partners to be the hands of God to fulfill the deep calling to ignite a movement of hope throughout Guatemala, transforming cities into havens of hope.

Haven of Hope Outreach Center Amazons - Iquitos, Peru

Iquitos, the largest city in the world unreachable by road, is situated between three rivers: the Amazon, the Itaya and the Nanay. It has a population of almost 500,000 people with an additional 300,000 in rural river villages. It is considered the most populated city that cannot be reached by road because the only way to get there is by boat or plane.

Children continue to be the most vulnerable and unprotected citizens. Of the 3.8 million people living in extreme poverty, 2.1 million are children, with more than 60% of the under-18 population living below the poverty line. Peru is primarily a source country for women and children trafficked within the country for the purpose of commercial sexual exploitation. The government acknowledges that child sex tourism exists, particularly in the Amazon region of the country.

The program is located in three locations utilizing local church facilities in several areas in Iquitos. The program is one of the only outreach initiatives in Iquitos providing education, counselling, meals and spiritual guidance to over 250 children each week. The Hope Movement plans to expand this program to reach a larger number of children and families, as well as uniting local ministries to impact the community through street outreach and community development.

Story Behind the Vision Iquitos, Peru

In 2000 Marta Noguera developed a vision called "Alcanzando Ninos Para Jesus" in the Amazon City of Iquitos, Peru, she then partnered with Jonathan Roiz a long time friend who together have conducted missions in several nations such as Guatemala, joining the board of directors of the Hope Movement, and together they made a vow to God and the people of Iquitos to fulfill the call to ignite a movement of united people together as one to open the windows of Heaven to rain down the presence of God upon the people of Peru, shaking His people from their comfort zone, answering the call to be the ripple that forms a flood of hope, flowing through the streets like a mighty river, transforming cities into havens of hope.

The program has reached over 800 children in several communities throughout Iquitos. Through donations by Marta, individuals, and churches such as Luz de las Naciones, the program has been able to provide uniforms, shoes, education, counseling, physical nourishment, and spiritual guidance to children and families, with a vision to expand to bring lasting transformation to Iquitos and the nation of Peru.

Hope Movement Alliance Movement Mobilization

A voluntary, strategic alliance to enhance our ability to achieve a common purpose by sharing risks, responsibilities, resources, and rewards, transforming communities into havens of hope.

The Hope Movement Alliance builds relationships with local churches, ministries, and non-profits, meeting on a monthly basis to unite in prayer and encouragement and develop strategic plans of action and unique life-transforming programs, sharing resources, conducting missions activities, and developing leadership through our specially designed curriculum, working together to bring lasting change to communities throughout the nation.

We provide grassroots churches, ministries, and non-profits extensive training and leadership development through our specially designed curriculum in group, one-on-one, and webinar meetings to transform their way of looking at outreach, developing a more effective and strategic way of reaching the hurting, collaborating with one another, managing their finances and accountability, understanding the importance of going with the flow of God and not following our own agenda, shaking the comfort zone and empowering them with the essential tools to bring lasting change to their communities.

Missions of Hope

Taking Hope to the People

Our mission teams consist of national and international missionaries who are passionate about bringing transformation to cities and nations. Our mission teams go out into the streets on a daily basis in places consumed by prostitution, street children, drug addiction, and extreme poverty.

The Hope Movement focuses our efforts on shaking people from their comfort zone, inspiring a mission mentality in those who are citizens. In order to see lasting change, citizens must be to ones who step up and bring hope to their own people. Through our Mission Teams, Generation of Transformation Programs, Haven of Hope Center, and the Hope Movement Alliance we are shaking the comfort zone, inspiring people and uniting them as one, training youth and adults within the nation to form a movement that will transform their nation into a haven of hope.

Our mission teams conduct life transforming activities in schools, reach out to people throughout the community, minister in shelters and visit local families providing counseling and education. Hundreds of local churches, ministries, non-profits and community members are united as one and dedicate their time and talents to assist in community outreaches, street crusades, feeding the hungry, repairing homes, and building water wells, bringing restoration to families and neighborhoods.

Mission teams speak to local churches and ministries sharing the vision of God, uniting them as one and inspiring them to step outside of their comfort zone, establishing a Hope Movement Alliance to maintain the development of these communities.

Living Supernatural Seeing Through the Eyes of God

The Jews have a legend that when their forefathers were saved from Egypt and the Egyptians drowned in the Red Sea, the angels joined the songs of triumph sung by the Israeli's, and God said to the angels, "The Jews are men and can rejoice about their escape, but from you I expect more understanding. Are the Egyptians not also my creatures? Do I not love them, too? How do you fail to feel my sorrow about their tragic fate?"

Joshua 5:13 says, "And it came to pass, when Joshua was by Jericho, that he lifted his eyes and looked, and behold, a Man stood opposite him with His sword drawn in His hand, and Joshua went to Him and said to Him, "Are you for us or for our adversaries."

If the one met by Joshua had been only a man, the answer could have been "I am for you" or "I am for your adversaries", or even "I am neutral". These are the only possible human responses to such a question. But the Being whom Joshua met was from the Lord and, therefore, when asked whether He was for or against Israel, gave an answer that is most unexpected and difficult to understand; "No". What does this "no" mean?

He came from a place where beings are not for or against, but where everyone and everything are understood, looked upon with pity and compassion, and loved with fire.

Where are those Christ-followers who live in the spiritual that the supernatural has become natural, because they have returned to their first love? No longer seeing through the eyes of a human, but through the eyes of God, loving all with fire, illuminating the presence of God through all that they do and say.

Arise generation of transformation, step outside of your comfort zone, and feel the emotions of your creator, seeing the world through His eyes. Walk through life with spiritual x-ray vision to see past the smile, the hardened shell to touch the very soul of a person.

Questioning God Food for Thought

We often question God, question faith, question if it is worth continuing serving, because we feel God has abandoned us, or has not given us what we "deserve". God has a question for you, what do I owe you, one who has been consumed with sin, a better job? a better house? romance? Are you saying that the gift of my life was not enough?

It is time to seek my face and not my hands, and when you do you will see my overwhelming compassion.

Let me preach you without preaching, not by words, but by my example, by the catching force, the sympathetic influence of what I do, the evident fullness of the love my heart bears to you.
